TO WHOM SOEVER IT MAY CONCERN

Miss Tanja Meyle joined halfaway studio – I, class of U.D. CEPT Ahmedabad in 2003, between 5th Sept and 21st Oct.

The class project was to document part of historic city of Jodhpur, Rajasthan and to design any small part of it for future.

She chose to demonstrate her skill of architectural space making by connecting the temple of Raj Ranchodji to the water body. While her joining late and being a foreign student did not affect her understanding of the project, her attempt to design was quite afresh.

Her design was very well received and infused a sense of specialness to both the monuments. She designed monumental steps in a schewed juxtaposition.

She worked hard, made models and explained through drawings.

She was well absorbed in the class. She has a pleasant personality and well-intended work culture.

I wish her all the best.
